

Be college ready before day one

The Western Pennsylvania Writing Project's Writing for College is designed for rising 11th and 12th graders in the greater Pittsburgh area.

Students will receive the tools and support needed to successfully navigate the college application process, including crafting compelling personal statements, writing effective scholarship essays, and developing skills for college-level essay writing.

Through engaging activities and expert guidance, students will gain confidence in their writing abilities while preparing essential materials for college applications and scholarship opportunities.

2025 Dates: May 3, June 7, and August 2

Location: University of Pittsburgh

Cost: $400/person (siblings receive a $50 discount)*

*Visit website for more information

Registration begins January 6, 2025